

Toronto Survival In The New Millennium

By Victor Fletcher

Publisher, Journalist, Radio Personality, Astrologer

BEACHES TERROR GETS RESPONSE:

I read the cover page (which looks very GRAPHIC but GOOD!) and I like the RED font with drops of blood for extra effect!

Toronto Police are so corrupt in my opinion, and this painfully illustrates that fact. It is quite sickening and reprehensible that they continue to get away with it, and then the mainstream media publishes the release about GRAFFITTI of all things! Disgusting "policing". They need to be held accountable or go to jail without pay for failing to serve & protect law abiding citizens. My personal experience with police is quite dismal and disheartening. It seems that they really do not care, and it doesn't matter what the demographics - race, gender, socio-economic factors, time of day, seriousness of the crime committed. Just don't interrupt their coffee & donut breaks!

With SIX murders in Toronto in the last week alone, I am seriously considering LEAVING Toronto and relocating ANYWHERE ELSE. I predict that there will be a mass exodus from the GTA, somewhat like what happened with English French Canadians in Montreal. But when I DO leave, I will never look back! I'm sure I am not the only disillusioned longtime Torontonian who feels this way. It is a crime what is happening to this once great city!

— D.

Editor's Note: Some time ago, due to being cheated out of a refund owed to Toronto Street News by the City of Toronto, we moved contracting jobs from Toronto to the tune of $25,000.

So, racism, intimidation tactics backfire on Toronto on a regular basis.

Police are not given sufficient education to lobby for more personnel on the streets so that they have a larger presence as a simple deterrent to crime. People are fined for parking on the street as the city can't afford to allow citizens to use its streets.

It used to be a pleasant break to stop and have a beer on the Danforth but it changed dramatically over the years with violent drug dealers apparently being allowed to run wild.

Only recently, did a complaint finally result in Operation Danny Boy. One bar owner tells us he has to allow gang owned video and games in his bar — or else! A Russian gang involved perhaps? Are Metro's finest afraid of them????

Heavy duty drug dealers in the heavy drug industry have made the city unsafe in many areas.

I don't feel safe in a Beaches bar either because of the underground activity with big-time gangs supplying heavy drugs to the area.

Alcohol Research Foundation identified upper middle class patrons of cocaine as the target user of these drugs.

RESPONSE TO NATIONAL POST ANTI-SEMITISM

Good morning,

I read the National Post yesterday, and was completely enthralled with the article they did on your newspaper. Congratulations! You know you've made it big when major media (AKA Government) try to diss-credit you.

Thank you for the amazing articles you produce, and for the truth you continue to spread.

Much love,

Michelle Ackerman

Toronto Street News staff, writers, owner, printer are Jewish.

Dear People:

By now you will probably know that ANHEUSER-BUSCH was bought by a foreign company.

Please help me in boycotting Anheuser-Busch Budweiser Beer since they are lame sellouts!! Just drop off all your beer at my place, along with all the rest of the cases I have already collected, and I'll dispose of it for you.

We'll teach those bastards!

— Anonymous

So, then, do we see cocaine sales from under the counter of bars in the Beaches. We didn't appreciate being threatened by racist Wolfgang Droege when we caught him selling drugs across the street from our office location at Main & Danforth.

Again, I mention that Division 55 didn't act in any way to help our situation and actually thought it amusing when we complained — before Wolfgang was subsequently shot dead by one of his own drug customers. — VPF

RECALLING INSTITUTIONALIZED BEACH RACISM::

I was just remembering how Beach racism is hidden by media. One incident below:

A woman at 37 Willow Avenue told me she was afraid to attend her local community meeting because of the oppressive attitude of her neighbourhood.

She renovated her house there and put it up for sale due to the following incident:

A close neighbour came up her driveway with a drink in his hand, slurring the following insult: "Lady, how the f...k did someone like you get into our neighbourhood?"

She was standing there with her 4 year old daughter who had been suffering from asthma aggravated by the previous old Beaches home with mould problems.

When she called police, the policeman who attended informed her that: "Oh, Jack, Jack and I played hockey together. - Lady, go back into your house".

After I discussed this with her (self-described as an "ethnic") she did attend a community meeting called for her street on the vote to have the area designated as a "heritage" area. She did attend and voted against it. The editor of the real estate tabloid Beach Metro who also lives there proclaimed her special status in the area and helped to see the 'no' vote was discredited as informal with just a hand-vote. It was later voted down for the area when residents understood what the code word 'heritage' really meant.

When the Star did a story on how wonderful her 37 Willow Avenue renovation had been done -- she had sold by then -- I told the reporter about the real story behind the house -- the reporter then requested that I keep the fact a secret from his editor.

In the case of Rob McDonald, Nandikoor reported earlier as do other Indian-Canadian store keepers in the area that they don't report every crime incident to police because they feel there is no solution in that approach to the ongoing problems. So, if McDonald says there were not actually 10 robberies he is simply uninformed as we have reported.

Further, my memory came back on another source of the racist literature -- I was also mailed a copy of that literature. I have an OMNI TV tape reporting Nandikoor as saying the repeated vandalism of the building was racist in nature.

Also, his lawyer reported to me that the owner of the building seized hundreds of dollars of stock at midnight when he was moving out. The owner wanted him to sign a lease at that late hour which would result of course in him being responsible for a lease for which he was not part of. He had not signed a valid lease in any case and there was a dispute around his signature appearing on a lease that was shown to the new buyer of the real estate.

Macdonald also interfered with the religious activity of the St. Aidan's Church but I won't belabor you with that one because you won't believe that one either unfortunately. Town Crier paper now ridicules that policeman as do other citizens in the area.

Talk later.

-- Victor / Toronto Street News

911 Truth Protest Success!

Heya Everyone,

We need some help with the upcoming banner action. Email me if you are interested in helping, we need about 6-8 more people to be most effective.

The last action took place a week ago Friday and got 400 fresh hits on the toronto911truth site that was designed for people NEW to 911truth.

We are going to repeat the banner action on the 3 successful bridges (the ones where police did not bother us) to "drill" the message into passerby's heads and we are going to get the other 3 banners over to Queensway near St. Josephs hospital. There is a side walk that is pretty visible to the Gardiner Expressway and the Go train tracks that are perfect for grabbing people's attention in deadstop traffic.

The 3 banners gave us 400 hits (800 or so page loads) and we would have had double that if we had all the banners in place. (This was just a couple of hours work at rush hour time).

If we don't get the numbers, it won't be as effective. This will take place on Thursday at 3:30 to about 6pm. If the weather (wind and rain) are forecasted, we will be doing it the following day (Friday). So I need people to contact me who are "committed" to showing up - stating which day they are available (Fri/Thurs or both days).

Email address: toronto911truth@rogers.com contact me asap and let me know if you can make it.

We have 6 HUGE banners which grab people's attention. I anticipate more hits this time around as people will remind themselves to check out the site when they see our banners again - that's just the way it works when it comes to people.

Call me if you need to 416-788-5723

Shawn Cassista

www.toronto911truth.com

Sydney White Lectures resume

Sydney's popularity increases with every appearance she makes on radio, as a speaker at Canadian rights demonstrations and other personal appearances. She grew up in Toronto's Beaches and worked as an investigative reporter at the United Nations for decades. Her articles appear in monetary and academic publications across Canada including Toronto Street News

Studies In Propaganda

September 29, University of Toronto

Stand by here for updates on room number.