

Poetry By Angel Femia / LoveCry

He's taken your mind
Yourself he's just tossed
A matter of time

This you protect me from
When we do part

Heavenly Lights!

Angel Femia
Whispering gentle breeze
Cooling as the night moves in Swaying the branches slightly
Ending the day's sunlight

Moon rises in the darkness
Shades it's glowing rays
All seem still and quiet
At the end of another day

Off within a distance
Nature sounds arise
In the darkened silence
Stars glisten in the sky

Thank you for this day
Thank you for this night
In peace I watch your wonders
Sparkle in the heavenly lights!

Are You Scared???

Angel Femia
I need to ask you
As it bothers my heart
To watch your reaction
To my presence in your life

Why when you see me
I see fear in your eyes
Have I done something to you
Have shown you I'm unkind

I look in myself
But I do not see
Any unkind gesture
To you from me

Is it me that is fearful
Or yourself in the night

Do you really see yourself
Within the mirrors of my eyes

Is it just cause I'm caring
And you can't stand the thought
Of somebody caring
Cause that might just hurt

Is it the high that you feel
When I touch your hand
I noticed your jumped back
The jolt made me stand

Or the depth of my soul
When you look in my eyes
Much deeper than most
As I love to love

Or The fact that I love
Far deeper than rain
This sets your heart pounding
The you Shut down again

Into This Lust!

Angel Femia
Your anger keeps rising
Do you even know
He's pushing your buttons
Your ready to blow

The beads in your eyes
Are glaring like Ice
Straight through my head
Like blades from a knife

Yet you speak softly
Act like you care
Far too confusing
I feel to beware

You think your in love
I find you just lost

A matter of trust
Break all the cords
That got you into this lust

My Game!

Angel Femia
Don't pull me in
The games you play are scary
Don't tell me your lies
The stories you tell are dramatic Don't play with my head
I need myself to think clearly
You act like a friend
Loyal, true and kind
Then you start your trips
Constantly thinking of me
Constantly talking your shit
Constantly tripping my head
Real Friends don't create lies Real stories are far from dramatic
A friend who cared would help me stay clear
Loyalty is helping me face the truth
True is being there on your own
And kind is giving from love
Come into my game!!!!!!

The Ultimate Sacrifice!

Angel Femia
I know you love me
As well as I know my heart
I see your struggling
The demons and you possessors
I see the fear, the pain, the desperation
I understand you, as you tell me
We must say goodbye

The burden you carry
Fight with each day
Darkens your moods and tears at your heart
Anger rises, out of control

Forcing you, to the depths of insanity

In my silence I cry
Though I feel you are right
You must fight this alone
I watch you walk away, into the night
I pray to all above
To protect you, guide your steps
As you flight your war
To freedom and love!!!!

Unconditional Love!

Angel Femia
You come to me
With tears in your eyes
Begging for forgiveness
I listen

You tell me stories
Of realizations and revolutions,
To prove your sincerity
I here you

You ask for another chance
"You'll not repeat," you cry
My heart is always open
I forgive you

But it was not long
Before you repeated again
I distanced to protect myself
Yet I still forgive you

I love you though it hurts
I love you in my tears
I love you without you loving me
This is unconditional love.

Paul Hellyer, former deputy PM receives political courage award for releasing UFO presence in Canada and U.S.

PAUL HELLYER -speaking at the 4th X-Conference, Hilton Hotel in Gaithersburg Maryland, April 19th,2008.

The X Conference is sponsored by the Paradigm Research Group which is dedicated to disclosure on the truth about the extraterrestrial presence on earth, and the impact and effect of that presence on our lives, past, present and future.

At this conference Paul Hellyer, founder of the Canadian Action Party, former Deputy Prime Minister of Canada, former Minister of Defence, and other cabinet positions in previous Canadian governments, was honored with the award for political courage.

George Noory, host of Coast to Coast talk radio, received the award for communications courage.

Dr Edgar Mitchell, astronaut who walked on the moon, received the award for intellectual courage.

Dr Jesse Marcel, medical doctor whose father in the USA military collected the significant remnants from the Roswell 1947 UFO crash, received the Stargate award.

Paul Hellyer said:

"I wish I were in a mood for good humour, but I am not. We are hell-bent in the direction of destroying our planet, and we appear to be doing precious little about it.

Decades ago visitors from other planets warned us about where we were headed, and offered to help. But instead, we, or at least some of us, interpreted their visits as a threat, and decided to shoot first and ask questions afterward. The inevitable result was that some of our planes were lost; but how many were due to retaliation, and how many were a result of our own stupidity is a moot point.

Wilbert Smith, one of the first Canadians to take an active interest in the subject of UFOs, asked the visitors about the accidental destruction of our aircraft by flying into the vicinity of a flying saucer. The response: we were informed that although a few of our aircraft had come to an unfortunate end by what they considered colossal stupidity of our pilots, they were now taking corrective measures to avoid our aircraft.

I asked them what happened, and they said, 'Well, the fields around the saucers in order to hold them up, in order to produce the gravity differential, the time field differential which were necessary to operate the ship, these sometimes produced field combinations which reduced the strength of materials to the point where they were no longer strong enough to carry the load that the materials were expected to carry'.

Now, as we know, aircraft, particularly, the military type, are built with a rather small factor of safety, and in these regions of reduced binding, the materials are no longer strong enough to carry the load and the craft simply comes apart.

This didn't satisfy our military chiefs who

"The papers got it wrong. They didn't pull up a dumpster in front of the doorway. They had a sheet of plywood tied across the entrance."

Darrell, 47, and Pam, 38, were burned when a one burner Coleman Stove ignited their sleeping bags and clothing while they were trying to keep warm sleeping in a Vancouver alley in freezing temperatures. The couple had tied the piece of plywood across the entrance to a doorway alcove where they sought shelter for the night, and that trapped them in the flames. Darrell tried to kick it down, then finally untied it, and they ran, in flames, to the street. The two badly burned people were taken to the hospital in serious condition.

Vancouver's Pivot Legal Association is demanding a coroner's inquest into Darrell's plight, insisting Darrell would not have died if housing were available to him. They also want to determine whether there was a bed available to Darrell when he died on the street.

"The mandate of the coroner's service of British Columbia is to ensure that no death is ignored or overlooked, and to attempt to prevent similar deaths from taking place in the future," said Pivot's David Eby. "Darrell's death was entirely preventable and we don't want the circumstances of his passing to be overlooked. This man died of homelessness."

Darrell was well known to Eby, and had stored his belongings for weeks in the parking garage below Eby's office while he searched for a place to live. He had been in and out of housing in the year before his death.

How much has been accomplished in sixty years of feverish activity by some of the most highly educated minds in the U.S.? Has America developed flying saucers that are visually indistinguishable from the visitors, as alleged? And if so, what do they propose to do with them?

Even more critical, what progress has been made in the development of clean energy sources that could replace fossil fuels and save the planet from becoming a veritable wasteland? Who has the answers? Someone does, but apparently they aren't telling either secretaries of defence or presidents because they do not have a need to know.

In a story told by Dr Stephen Greer, President Clinton was asked a question by White House reporter Sarah McClendon about why he didn't do something about UFO disclosure. Clinton replied, 'Sarah, there is a government inside the government and I don't control it'.

Excuse me. Doesn't the Commander in Chief and the person who allegedly has his finger on the nuclear trigger have a right to know what his subordinates are doing?

The people of the United States who have aid the bills have a right to know. The people of the world demand to know because it is our descendants, too, whose lives are in mortal jeopardy.

It is time for the people of the U.S. to launch a new war against the evil of lies, deceit, and darkness, and go all out to win the victory of truth, transparency, and light."

Homeless man's death due to Vancouver's high rents

by Linda Dumont / Edmonton Street News
Edmonton's Marge Michasko recently returned from Vancouver where she attended the memorial service for her son Darrell, who died from burns to 95% of his body on January 31, 2008.

Marge visited Darrell's girl-friend, Pam, in hospital where she is slowly recovering from burns to more than 40% of her body. Marge also was able to locate the spot where he son slept that last night on the street. She said,

"This wasn't a case of someone who wanted to stay out on the streets," said Eby. "I saw Darrell 2 weeks ago and he had saved up enough money for a damage deposit but couldn't find a place to live. He was actively looking for a home."

Marge said her son's death was due to homelessness brought on by the high cost of housing - her son had been forced into homelessness because his government medical assistance payments were not enough to cover the cost of his rent. "He was living on the street because he was sick and the rents went sky high and his disability money wasn't enough. He was looking for a place but couldn't find one," she said.
