A Whole Ten Years Of Revealing The Truth!

Why does the mainstream media hide the truth? Because they are owned!
The Power of the Press Belongs To Those Who Own One! We aren't owned by big corporations and their political agents who come in many forms to the detriment of Canadians.
National Post reporter Michael Brean chased me to know names of our informants!

He wanted to know our printer, our profits, etc. with the ostensible reason to intimidate Canadians which he does.

Then he invented a story claiming I worked in an antique store. In a 3 day series to smear us at National Post he suppressed my past contract customers' names like Ontario Premiers Bill Davis and Bob Rae-Levine, also NDP leader Jack Layton. I also performed media duties for the OPP helping Archie Ferguson celebrate the 75th Anniversary of the OPP in publications. Brean demanded our associates' names like the Masons, Shriners and Jews who support and inform this paper with real news and insights as well as our international correspondents. People in Toronto are the targets of these highly-organized and researched Mossad-agent types; National Post attempted to deride TSN as a "dubious social mandate" because it helps the homeless! Our supporters and Honda advertiser shrink in fear from false accusations of the zionist poison powers in Toronto. Local zionists celebrate the torture and murders of Palestinians while denying the existence of its 3rd most powerful military and 400 nuclear warheads threatening neighbours all the way to Europe. Our ongoing documentation of local Jews who fear the anti-semitism created by local and international zionists will not stop. National Post wanted to photograph me but felt more comfortable taking me down a dark alley whose photographer then clicked on my face close-up for about 50 (Mossad) shots. Michael Coren also debriefs political activists in Toronto whether running for Tory leadership or simply as Tamil victims.

We came across Coren at a Reform Party Convention in Ottawa wearing a costume pretending to be one of the dressed-up rubes: heavy, shiny black shoes, tweed jacket, etc. while he still had hair. Murray Dobbin put me onto the racism in the Reform Party which was a source of curiosity for the Mossad types who were busy infiltrating CSIS at the time, Bob Rae-Levine included.

Today, we are asking what Bob Rae-Levine was doing in the civil war in Sri Lanka? Israeli zionists have been reported as profiteering by selling arms to both sides as well as providing fighter pilots to help kill Tamils.

What did Bob Rae Levine involve himself in by 25 visits to that country until he is now denied access? Previously, we exposed Bob Rae Levine's Maoist brother-in-law as being involved in smuggling Chinese into Canada in 1971 period (tried to hire me) — Maurice Strong, long time family friend had his aunt living in China acknowledged by Chairman Mao himself. The brother-in-law got the contract to print Peking maps for his Perly Map company.

When Bob Rae Levine tries to sell Ontario Hydro to Enron he identifies himself as a target of some interest

ROTHSCHILD'S ENGLISH MPs MILKING THE PUBLIC FOR REAL!

MPs' expenses: Tory claims £57,000 to rent flat from own company

Millionaire Conservative MP broke parliamentary rules by claiming more than £50,000 in taxpayer-funded expenses to rent a flat from his own company. By Holly Watt and Robert Winnett

Brian Binley claimed £1,500 a month to rent the flat for more than three years, despite House of Commons rules forbidding MPs from renting properties from themselves or their companies.

The Daily Telegraph can disclose that Mr Binley's rental claims were first flagged up by parliamentary officials in April 2006, but the payments were not stopped until April of this year.

In 2006, he was told that the claims were not allowed. But he was permitted to continue claiming after appealing to Michael Martin, the Speaker of the House of Commons. Mr Martin only ruled in April 2009 that the claims must stop but Mr Binley has not had to repay the £57,000 he improperly received while the Speaker deliberated.

The latest disclosure concerning MPs' expenses will cast further serious doubts over the policing of the system by the parliamentary authorities.

The House of Commons is expected to publish details of each MP's expense claims tomorrow. However, the information is expected to be heavily censored, with addresses and other key details blacked out. With only this information, questionable claims — such as those made by Mr Binley — would be very difficult, if not impossible, to uncover.

The latest disclosure comes as:
* The Parliamentary Standards Commissioner began an investigation into the expense claims made by Shahid Malik, the Communities Minister. The Daily Telegraph disclosed last week that Mr Malik received thousands of pounds to rent "office space" which was actually on the ground floor of his constituency home.

* Jim Devine, a Scottish Labour MP, was banned by the party's "star chamber" from standing for the party at the next election. Mr Devine submitted invoices for electrical work worth £2,157 from a company with a fake address and an invalid VAT number. A Labour spokesman said last night: "After considering in detail the case of Jim Devine and speaking to him, the Labour Party's special NEC endorsements panel unanimously recommended rescinding his endorsement as a Labour candidate. He will not be able to stand as a Labour candidate in any constituency at the next general election."

* Sir Christopher Kelly, the chairman of the Committee on Standards in Public Life, criticised MPs at the start of his expenses inquiry, saying the system appeared to have been "exploited for personal gain". He hinted that MPs may be prohibited from profiting from taxpayer-funded second homes in future.

* Unison, the trade union, threatened to withhold £1 million in political donations to Labour amid anger over the expenses scandal. It has already suspended £100,000 in funding to individual Labour MPs.

It is not clear why Mr Binley, the MP for Northampton South, was permitted to continue receiving substantial sums of taxpayers' money for more than three years despite being in breach of the rules.

Mr Binley was elected to the Commons in May 2005. He at first used the "second home" parliamen-

Street News Smiles

An Illinois man left the snow-filled streets of Chicago for a vacation in Florida. His wife was on a business trip and was planning to meet him there the next day. When he reached his hotel, he decided to send his wife a quick email. Unable to find the scrap of paper on which he had written her email address, he did his best to type it in from memory.

Unfortunately, he missed one letter and his note was directed instead to an elderly preacher's wife, whose husband had passed away only the day before. When the grieving widow checked her email, she took one look at the monitor, let out a piercing scream and fell to the floor in a dead faint. At the sound, her family rushed into the room and saw

DEAREST WIFE: JUST GOT CHECKED IN. EVERYTHING PREPARED FOR YOUR ARRIVAL TOMORROW.
P.S. SURE IS HOT DOWN HERE.

A young girl came home from a date looking sad. She told her mother, "Charles proposed to me a few minutes ago."

this note on the "Then why are you so dad?" her mother asked.

"Because he also mentioned he was an atheist. Mom, he doesn't believe there's hell!"

Her mother replied, "Marry him anyway. Between the two of us, we'll show him how wrong he is."
